PRUSSIAN DIET DISSOLVED AFTER DRASTIC ACTION

PRESIDENT VON HINDENBURG TRANSFERS POWERS TO VON PAPEN

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—(P)—The Prussian diet was dissolved today by vote of the new "triumvirate" consisting of Vice Chancellor Von Papen, Hans Kerrl, president of the diet, and Conrad Adenauer, president of the Prussian state council.

A new diet will be elected on March 5, the date on which an election for the National Reichstag is to be held.

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—(P)—Claiming that the supreme court's verdict of Oct. 25, 1932, charged him with establishing order in Prussia, President Paul von Hindenburg swept into the disarray today the remnants of the Braun-Severing Prussian government, transferring the powers of the two chief officials to Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen. The vice chancellor, as commissioner for Prussia, will take Premier Otto Braun's place in the triumvirate ruling the Prussian Diet and together with Hans Kerrl, national Socialist president of the Diet, vote dissolution of that parliamentary body.

Conrad Adenauer, president of the Prussian states council and third member of the triumvirate, and Premier Braun had voted against dissolution which was favored by the Nazi, Herr Kerrl.

President von Hindenburg's decree stated that "through the attitude of the Prussian state toward the verdict of the supreme court on Oct. 25, 1932, confusion

OVER JULIAN'S BOND FORFEITED; FAILS TO APPEAR

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 6.—(P)—The $25,000 bond of C. C. Julian, oil promoter, was ordered forfeited when he failed to appear today in the government's mail fraud trial against more than 50 persons who allegedly were connected with the Julian Oil and Royalties company.

After hearing the pleas, Judge Edgar S. Vaughn recessed court until 2 p. m. District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde asked the delay in order to decide whether or not the government would proceed with the trial in the absence of Julian, principal defendant.

Lamar S. Bell, San Antonio financier accused of backing the Julian Oil company originally, was present.

VICTIM OF FIENDISH SLAYER

Partly hidden by dead leaves and tangled undergrowth, the pathetic body of 15-year-old Mary Helen O'Connor, of Rockaway Beach, L. I., is shown where it was found at Massapequa, L. I., after the pretty school girl had been missing for a week. The girl had been brutally attacked and beaten to death. Assistant District Attorney Albert de Meo is viewing the body. Inset is a recent photo of the slain child. She had left home to visit a school chum, but was never heard of until her murdered body was found by a man gathering firewood.

Claim Thousands Chinese Farmers Commit Suicide

By MORRIS J. HARRIS, (Associated Press Correspondent.)
SHANGHAI, China, Feb. 6.—(P)—An apparently extravagant story of how 4,000 Chinese farmers committed suicide rather than fall captive to communists in the Southern interior province of Kiangsi constituted today's sensation in the Chinese newspapers.

The papers declared the tragedy occurred in a village near Ningtu, Southeast Kiangsi, in the heart of the Chinese Soviet district. The reds were reported to have besieged the village for many months. When it appeared the former would soon gain entrance, the farmers were said to have ended their lives.

FIFTH WEEK TEXAS LEGISLATURE STARTS WITH CONTROVERSIES

COMMITTEE HEARINGS MOUT MATTERS AND APPOINTMENT ROW FACE SOLONS

AUSTIN, Feb. 6.—(P)—Committee hearings on highly controversial legislation and renewal of the conflict involving appointments of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson held the spotlight today as the Texas legislature started the fifth week of its regular session.

Confirmation or rejection of the appointments of F. L. Denison of Temple as a member of the state highway commission and of R. L. Daniel of Victoria as life insurance commissioner was before the senate.

The house calendar of committee hearings was full. Hearings were scheduled during the week on bills to legalize betting on horse races; to liberalize the prohibition statutes; to regulate public utilities; to increase the membership of the highway commission from three to five members; and to make the commissioners elective and on proposals to bring about a reduction in the number of mortgage foreclosures on farms and homes.

Investigation of the East Texas oil field and of the efforts of the Texas railroad commission to enforce oil production and conservation statutes was scheduled to start today before the house committee on oil, gas and mining.

The first of the prohibition squabbles from three to five members when the house constitutional amendments committee meets for a hearing on two proposed constitutional amendments to repeal the prohibition prohibition and provide for settlement of the liquor question by the local option method.

Hearings on the bills to legalize having an alcoholic content of 32 per cent by weight were planned to start before the house state affairs committee on Wednesday.

JOLESCH SHOE CO. IN RECEIVERSHIP; TO RE-OPEN SOON

CONCERN OPERATES TWENTY RETAIL SHOE STORES THROUGHOUT STATE

About twenty retail outlets and the wholesale distributor of the Jolesch Shoe company were placed in the hands of a receiver Saturday according to information received by M. R. Thomas, manager of the Corsicana branch of the company. Both the Jolesch Shoe company and the Salvage Shoe Store, Corsicana branches, were closed Monday while the stocks were being inventoried.

Mr. Thomas stated that under the direction of J. Frank Holt, named as receiver, the stores in Corsicana would be opened Friday with a big sale to reduce the stocks now on hand, and raise cash now invested in merchandise.

The receivership is reported to have come as a result of a friendly suit to enable the adjustment of various items of overhead which could not be accomplished in any other manner.

According to the instructions received by Mr. Thomas, and the Salvage Store, the establishments will be opened Friday and the sale will continue for about ten days. After that time, the stores will again be operated as they have been, with no change in name or policy.

The Corsicana manager said Monday that he had bought a large stock of Spring styles to (Continued on page 2)

TEXAN ADVOCATES MAKING OF SILVER MONETARY RESERVE

ASSERTS STEP WOULD PRESERVE MARKETS IN ORIENT BY GIVING BUYING POWER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(P)—Making silver a monetary reserve was advocated before the house coinage committee today by Representative Cross (D., Texas), as something that would "preserve for us huge markets" in the Orient and the Western Hemisphere.

"If we but enable them to get in a position to buy our products by giving some purchasing power to their money," he said, "our industry and markets will flourish."

A bill by him, pending with many others on silver, would let the secretary of the treasury buy silver at the market price and pay for it with certificates when the ratio between gold and silver is less than 14.36 to 1.

Because of statements that the United States might lose money when the price of silver dropped, Howard (D., Neb.) asked: "Might not that loss be infinitesimal by comparison with the gain in trade?"

"Unquestionably, yes," Cross replied.

Cross added that his bill would prevent loss by the treasury because of the provision that whenever the value of the monetary reserve silver dropped 10 per cent below the face value of the outstanding certificates more silver must be purchased by the government.

Arguing that an increase in the volume of currency through a greater use of silver as its base would not be "inflation" but "expansion" instead, Representative Dies (D., Texas), told the committee:

"We have, for more than a year, sat here and tried to adopt the remedies of big business. We have merely increased debts and the value of and the demand for gold. Every other country in the world has scaled down her debts. It seems to be a conspiracy to denounce everything as inflation."

BEAUCHAMP CASE CONTINUED WHEN WITNESS NOT FOUND

DEFENSE IN TRIAL OF KERENS MAN SET FOR MONDAY GIVEN CONTINUANCE

Motion for a continuance of the State of Texas vs. Jesse R. Beauchamp, charged by indictment for murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Aubrey Beauchamp, brother of the defendant, in Corsicana, Nov. 30, 1932, presented by defense attorney was granted in the Thirtieth judicial district court Monday morning by Judge Hawkins Scarborough.

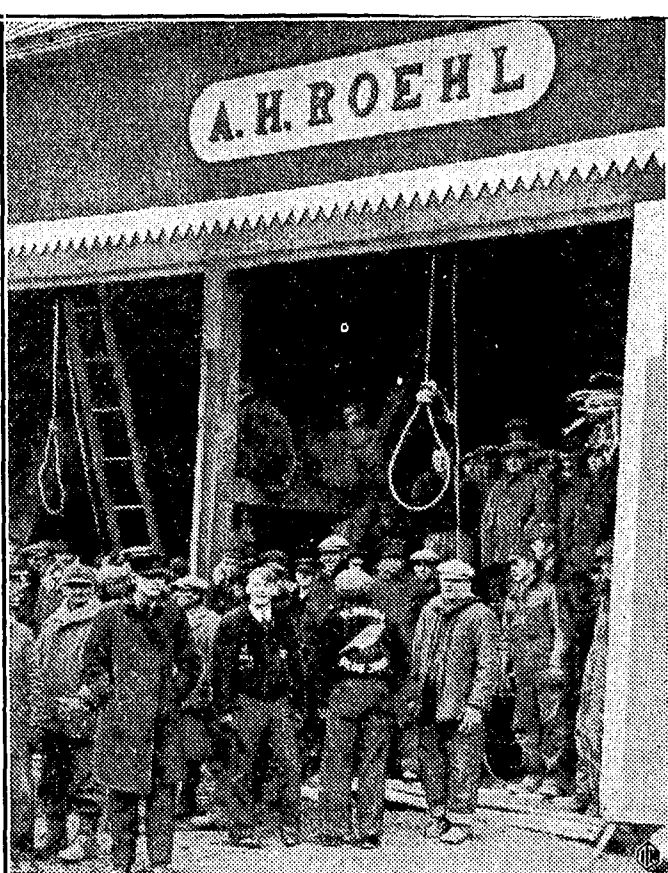

The motion alleged that F. G. Holland, a defense witness, was absent and his testimony was material to the defense.

Gleo G. Miller, criminal district attorney, announced ready for the state's case.

The defense attorneys alleged that F. G. Holland purchased liens in Dallas against 225 acres of property belonging to the defendant and instituted a foreclosure suit against his property. The defense contends, it was stated, that Aubrey Beauchamp furnished the money to purchase the liens against the property of the defendant and that he was the owner of the property.

The special venire of 50 men summoned for this case was excused and the regular jury for the (Continued on page 2).

"HANGED IF I'LL BUY A FARM!"

Farmers of Northwestern Ohio are shown as they guarded the property on the farm of A. H. Roehl, near Maumee, O., when a sheriff's sale was scheduled following the foreclosure of a mortgage. Roehl's neighbors had come to the sale provided with nickles and dimes to do the bidding in the manner that has become popular in the farm belt. But the finance company holding the mortgage on the farm granted a 60-day moratorium on all farm loans shortly before the sale was scheduled to begin. Note the noose, hanging as a grim warning to "land-snatchers." Scenes like this were enacted recently all through the farm belt of the Mid-West.

FAMOUS LAME DUCK AMENDMENT IS PART CONSTITUTION NOW

SIMPLE FORMALITY STATE DEPARTMENT TOOK PLACE ON MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(P)—A simple formality at the state department put the lame duck amendment officially into the constitution today after a long and wearisome journey through congress and the state legislatures.

With a group of state department officials and two other witnesses present, Secretary Stimson signed the proclamation announcing to the nation that a sufficient number of legislatures had approved the measure to make it effective.

Under the amendment, the first regular session of the next congress will open on January 3, as will each session thereafter, and the 1937 inauguration will be on January 20 instead of March 4, shortening the time between November elections and the opening of the terms of members of congress and the chief executive.

Senator Norris of Nebraska, the Republican independent who had sponsored the amendment in congress, was unable to attend the ceremony at the state department.

VETERAN SENATE OFFICIAL DEFENDS MAGAZINE ARTICLE

CITES STATEMENTS OF MEMBERS OF SENATE TO SUPPORT HIS ASSERTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(P)—David S. Barry, veteran senate sergeant-at-arms, today defended a magazine article that members of congress themselves to the senate judiciary committee today in support of his assertion in a magazine article that some senators and representatives take bribes.

"The committee postponed action on his case, but will continue working on it tomorrow."

Appearing voluntarily, the 73-year-old suspended officer called on the committee a prepared statement citing several suggestions of bribery, including one by Senator Glass (D., Va.) in the senate last spring that bankers "hire some congressmen" to oppose banking legislation.

Holding a derby and cane in his right hand as he sat facing his inquisitors, Barry insisted the purpose of his article was to "proclaim the integrity of congress as a whole" but asserted it was "a fair inference that there are some men subject at least to influence."

SENATE AGREES TO PAY MARTIAL LAW EXPENSES MONDAY

OPPOSANTS DECLARE CONSTITUTION VIOLATED; FROM OIL-GAS FUNDS

AUSTIN, Feb. 6.—(P)—The senate voted today, 21 to 4, to appropriate $190,000 to pay expenses of martial law in the East Texas oil field.

The item was included in the governor's $200,000 deficiency appropriation bill. Senators opposed to the appropriation contended that the constitution had been evaded.

They asserted that in addition to the $190,000 deficiency appropriation for the adjutant general's department had been used for martial law maintenance. The legislature will be called upon to make a $90,000 appropriation for armory rentals and other expenses which should have been paid out of the regular appropriation, they said.

The constitution limits the governor's deficiency appropriations to $200,000.

Senator George Purl of Dallas sent up an amendment to make the oil and gas fund of the railroad commission instead of the general revenue fund. Senator Purl stated that the oil companies had been benefited by martial law and that he wanted them to pay for troops for the oil and gas fund is obtained from taxes on oil and gas companies.

"It's not fair to the ordinary taxpayers of Texas to make them pay for troops for the oil and gas fund is obtained from taxes on oil and gas companies," Senator Purl said.

Senator Julian Greer of Athens contended that Former Governor (Continued on page 8).

Blizzard Hits Mountain States With Snow Storm

DENVER, Feb. 6.—(P)—Carried by a 35-mile an hour storm, which yesterday caused blockades and distress in Montana was sweeping over Wyoming and Eastern Colorado today.

Temperatures took sharp nose dives to the accompaniment of the storm which routed springlike weather from the Eastern slopes of the Rockies.

Motorists marooned on highways in Montana were reported stranded, and main highways were open throughout that state, although many side roads remained impassable.

There was a 54 degree drop of temperature early this morning in Southern Wyoming and the plunge registered 19 degrees in Denver in three hours. The storm, according to the weather bureau, was heading south.

Snow was falling at Cheyenne, Wyo., and Sterling, Greeley and Denver, Colo.

FIRE, PERSISTENT PLAGUE OF CONEY ISLAND, SWEEPS BIG RESORT EARLY TODAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(P)—Fire, persistent plague of Coney Island, struck again today at the famous seashore resort, riding along the boardwalk on a biting southwest gale and destroying several amusement places.

In the bleak hush two hours before dawn and with thermometers registering 12 above zero, fire erupted from the wooden and papier mache "Tunnel of Love" in that section of the amusement place known as "The Bowers."

The gale, howling through the empty skeletons which in summer are gay with life, picked up the fire and swept it through the feris wheel, the kiddie park, the catapillar ride, the motorcade and two wooden concessions.

Large bath houses were in the path of the fire when suddenly the wind, as if in penitence, capriciously shifted to the north. The shift saved the bathhouses and the portion of the board walk near them.

A great part of the Brooklyn fire apparatus was called out. The raw wind of one of the seasons coldest nights wrestled with the streams of water from the hose, often tossing them back in broken spray upon the hosemen who soon were coated with ice.

An accurate estimate of the damage was not immediately obtainable. A police officer at the temporary headquarters established within the fire lines placed the estimate at $100,000.

The cause of the fire in the "Tunnel of Love" was sought in an investigation which was started as soon as the fire was brought under control. No one was known to have been in the amusement place.

To Be Departed Wednesday.
LONDON, Feb. 6.—(P)—Oscar M. Hartzell, who came to London from Iowa ten years ago announcing that his purpose was to prosecute claims to the mythical estate of Sir Francis Drake, the sixteenth century navigator, will be deported on Wednesday as an undesirable alien. Two detectives will accompany him from London to Southampton, where he will board a steamer for America.

IMPORTANT BILLS BEFORE LEGISLATURE FOR EARLY ACTION

EXTENSION MOTOR LICENSE FEE PAYMENTS PASSED; NOMINATIONS FIGHT

AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(Sp.)—Motorists will have until April 1 in which to buy their 1933 automobile license under a bill passed by the legislature. The bill moved to Gov. Miriam Ferguson's desk today for signature.

The proposal was designed to give relief to the automobile owner who was unable to pay the license fee before the legislature adjourned. The bill provided that he could obtain the license money if given two more months in which to do it.

The senate committee on government's nominations called a public hearing for this afternoon on protests against confirmation of two Ferguson appointees. They were F. L. Denison of Temple, named chairman of the highway commission, and L. Daniel of Victoria, chosen life insurance commissioner.

This was the senate's second major controversy over appointments. The senate had previously rejected two appointments to the board of education made by R. S. Sterling before he relinquished the office of governor.

Senator George P. Dallas who helped lead the fight for confirmation of the Sterling appointments, directed the opposition to Denison and Daniel. The nature of his allegations against the appointments was not disclosed.

Both houses made further progress yesterday in their movement to reduce the cost of government. The house passed a bill cutting deeply into the salaries of all judges. The senate finance committee voted a favorable report on a bill to reduce the salaries of all state employees for the remainder of the current biennium. The salary slashes would run up to 25 per cent.

Martial Law Expense. A bill to pay most of the expenses of martial law in East Texas was reported favorably by the senate finance committee.

Of the $200,000 provided in the governor's deficiency appropriation bill, $190,000 was for martial law expenditures. Martial law claims aggregating approximately $91,000 still had not been considered by the committee.

The senate finance committee made a favorable report on the $207,621 judiciary deficiency bill.

A bill to increase the penalties on delinquent taxes was reported favorably to the house committee on revenue and taxation. The penalty would be 2 per cent during the first month, 4 per cent during the second month, 6 per cent during the third month, 8 per cent during the fourth month, and 10 per cent thereafter. The present penalty is 10 per cent at the date the taxes become delinquent.

Sales Tax Bill. Agreement was made by the revenue and taxation committee to start hearings within a few days on the sales tax bill that has been proposed. No definite start date was set. Representative Duval of Fort Worth, chairman, stating it was his intention to work in hearings on the sales tax along with other pending bills.

A bill to levy an annual tax of $100 on loan brokers was reported favorably. The tax would apply to all forms of loan brokers, including automobile finance companies and companies that made small loans, with or without security. Regularly established banks, building and loan associations and insurance companies would be exempt.

Two bills setting the maximum fees for county officers were reported favorably by the house state affairs committee, but there was a conflict between the maximums provided in the respective bills.

A bill by Representative P. L. Anderson of San Antonio would limit the maximum fees of county judges, sheriffs and district attorneys to $6,500 a year. Other county officers would be limited to $5,000 a year and precinct officers to $4,000.

A maximum of $5,000 was placed on all fee officers, county and precinct, in a bill by Representative W. T. Savage of Dallas.

A third bill affecting fee officers, offered by Representative Sarah Hughes of Dallas, also was reported favorably. It would give the county commissioners' courts power to determine the number of deputies in fee offices and the salary they would be paid.

Redistricting Bill Introduced Senate. AUSTIN, Feb. 3.—(Sp.)—Senator Archie Parr of Beaverton introduced a bill in the Texas senate today to provide for senatorial redistricting in accordance with the 1930 census.

The senate passed bills to appropriate $1500 to pay the expenses of the Texas presidential electors and to create the office of purchasing agent for El Paso county.

NINE WOMEN BURN TO DEATH RESULT OF MORNING BLAZE

PATIENTS IN PSYCHOPATHIC INSTITUTION VICTIMS OF EARLY MORNING BLAZE

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 3.—(Sp.)—A mysterious fire burned nine women patients to death in a suburban sanitarium dormitory early today, despite the heroic efforts of attendants to lead them to safety.

The women broke from their sleeping quarters on route from upstairs.

By the time nearly a score of other patients had been led to the panic-stricken nine, who had fled back to their beds, were beyond aid. The dormitory was destroyed.

Eight of the nine bodies which had been recovered by fire fighting crews were tentatively identified.

MRS. LOTTIE ROBAC, 32, Cleveland.
MISS HELEN KOVACK, 49, Cleveland.
MRS. AGNES DORRINGTON, 78, Cleveland.
MISS ORAINE DEAN, 76, Cleveland.
MRS. FANNIE LAUDON, 54, Cleveland.
MISS ETHEL R. ZIPP, 24, Cleveland.
MRS. MARY BENNETT, 73, Cleveland.
MRS. ISABEL McBRIDGE, New Castle, Pa.

Charges of incendiarism were immediately made by the management. William Glendinning, staff physician and husband of the superintendent of the sanitarium, asked the Geauga county sheriff to arrest a man he suspected of arson.

The sanitarium is the Ridgely, a private institution consisting of three cottages on four acres of ground near the village of Wickliffe, Cuyahoga county, Cleveland suburb.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 3.—(Sp.)—Nine women psychopathic patients who fled in panic before flames of a fire which broke out in a dormitory of the Ridgely, a suburban Wickliffe early today, were burned to death despite heroic efforts of nurses to rescue them.

All of the bodies had been recovered eight hours after the fire broke out. The cause was beyond recognition.

The ruins were still smoldering when Dr. William Glendinning, husband of the sanitarium's superintendent and a staff physician, ordered the fire of incendiary origin. At his request, police took into custody a Chardon farmer with whom hospital officials had been in dispute.

He asserted the farmer had threatened his wife with death and yesterday telephoned the institution's office and said: "I'll get even if it kills me."

The bodies of Mrs. Isabel McBrigg, of New Castle, Pa., and Miss Lorane Dean, 78, of East Cleveland, were identified six hours after the fire was discovered at a home.

One of the terror-stricken women, all suffering from nervous or mental disorders, rent the chill night air as the flames ate rapidly through the frame dwelling.

The smoke and heat soon became so intense that the nurses, who so often tend to the patients in the cottages and three sanitarium, played sleep became impossible.

The fire was discovered by M. L. Smith, a nurse, who was spreading the alarm. Two nurses, Mrs. Ethel Craig and Miss Florence Farrell, quickly led women patients to the three upstairs rooms down the stairs.

They had succeeded in reaching the hallway when lashing tongues of fire ate up through the floor. Several patients, panic stricken, and clothing in flames, fled back up the stairs.

Rescuers, working frantically, succeeded in removing patients down ladders quickly hoisted to second floor windows.

The patients brought outside the dormitory by the nurses showed little concern at their sudden awakening and flight. Attendants said some, once they were taken to nearby dormitories, returned quickly to sanitarium routine, going quietly to bed after first insisting on their usual baths.

AGED SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF SENATE SUSPENDED AS RESULT MAGAZINE ARTICLE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Sp.)—The Senate's 73-year-old sergeant-at-arms, David S. Barry, was under suspension today—suspended for writing magazine article concerning some members of congress of accepting bribes.

He was removed from his familiar chair next the senate presiding officer after a public trial in that historic chamber. Final judgment will be passed next Tuesday.

In one of the most unusual scenes in congressional history, Barry was called before the senate yesterday. He acknowledged writing the article, admitted he had no evidence, and said he believed that his article was true.

The article in question was published under Barry's name in the current issue of the New Outlook which is edited by Alfred E. Smith. It's title was "Over the Hill to Demagoguery."

Among its statements was this: "Contrary to popular belief, there are not many crooks in congress. That is, out, and out grafters."

The attention of congress was first called to the article by Representative William L. Dwyer of New York, who said in the house that:

EFFORTS REDUCE FEDERAL LAWMAKERS SALARIES FAILURE

HOUSE VOTES DOWN PRO- POSITION REDUCE CONGRES- SIONAL PAY TO $7,500

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Sp.)—The house today voted down a proposal to reduce salaries of representatives and senators to $7,500.

Because the house was in the committee of the whole, there was no record vote.

The standing vote was 37 to 172, defeating the amendment.

The action leaves the annual pay at the present $9,000 rate; but more controversy is expected to center on the point, if not now then in the next congress.

The amendment, vigorously debated for an hour, was sponsored by Representative Whittington (D., Miss.).

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Sp.)—The house turned a deaf ear today to attempts to trim the pay of members in a big way, while the senate went back to the $10,000,000 which it recently threw out of the treasury post office appropriation bill.

Representative Whittington (D., Miss.), was ruled out of order on the amendment, giving the government service including vote on existing reductions. He tried then to cut the pay of representatives to $7,500 from the present $9,000, and drew a barrage of votes on the amendment.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, reopened the air mail question with criticism of Postmaster General Ewing's attitude and renewed demands for full investigation to determine what the proper appropriation for next year is. The senate also took up a proposal to delete from the ocean mail contracts but defeated it, 36 to 32.

A ways and means subcommittee of the house rejected all pending bills to build the tariff walls high against depreciated foreign currency. The vote on the amendment was 172 to 37.

More advocates of silver money appeared before the house coinage committee and the members discussed the possibilities of putting some measure to a vote just to develop national sentiment. They admitted no such plan could be passed this session.

May Seek House Vote on Silver. WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Sp.)—Despite agreement that the president's nomination of a silver remonetization bill, members of the house coinage committee today seriously discussed trying for a house vote to obtain the country's reaction for the benefit of the new administration.

Discussion of the question cropped out as Representative Shallenberger (D., Neb.), explained to the committee his own bill to establish a 16 to 1 ratio between gold and silver, and to permit free coinage of silver.

"We all know," Shallenberger said, "that this congress is not going to pass this 16 to 1 bill."

"Do you think the house would pass a limited silver bill this session?" asked Fiesinger (D., Ohio).

"You might possibly get it through the house but I don't know how the senate would react," he answered.

"But don't you think that with a new administration coming in, might bring up and get the country interested?"

"First, you have got to get a bill that the new administration will agree upon, and that might be a little difficult," Shallenberger answered.

"Well, I simply thought that the incoming president might like to see the reaction of the country," Fiesinger pursued.

Representative Dies (D., Tex.), also urged that the silver bill be passed by the house.

Shallenberger agreed, but he hesitated to make any prediction as to the house approval.

Another silver advocate, McKewen (D., Okla.), said he had been "for remonetization of silver since 1896" when William Jennings Bryan ran for president on the 16 to 1 free coinage platform.

John A. Simpson, president of the farmers' union and a congressional committee, advocated remonetization of silver and a congressional investigation of the farm deflation begun in 1920.

He went on to assert that reconstruction of the farm loan were helping "only the big fellows."

Says Scientists Baffled. WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Sp.)—Representative Blanton (D., Tex.) told the house "a real scientist" is baffled.

He was differentiating between "real scientists" and "these so-called scientists, the potato scientists, who have long hair."

"A real scientist hasn't got long hair," Blanton said.

His reference to "potato scientists" applied to specialists of the agriculture department who have been engaged in developing potato types.

Interesting and intense, and it is very doubtful if he will be able to get away," Mr. Ferguson said.

Favor Representative Limit. AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(Sp.)—A proposed constitutional amendment which would place a limitation on the number of representatives to be elected to the legislature from the more populous counties was given favorable report today by the constitutional amendments committee of the Texas house.

The amendment would provide that under no apportionment should any county be entitled to more than six representatives unless the population of the county exceeded $50,000 in which event the county would be allowed one representative for each 10,000 population above this figure.

Vote on the amendment was 11 to 12.

SWAN SONG OF THE DUCKS.

For generations "lame duck" congressmen have been proving themselves a general nuisance. Now the nation can start enumerating their virtues and benevolences, if any, for the "lame duck" congress is history.

The alacrity with which 36 states ratified the twentieth amendment to the constitution was no tribute to the "lame duck" legislators, who asked no more and deserved less.

No longer will repudiated national legislators participate in the government, and presidents-elect will not have to wait four months after election before giving their pledged policies to the people.

Had the twentieth amendment been in force last year, the new congress and president elected last November would now be in office, and the present filibuster-ridden and hopelessly disorganized session of congress would never have been.

Senator Norris, to whom is due most of the credit for this important reform, best epitomizes the significance of the new amendment. "The enactment of this amendment is a great step toward placing the control of our government in the hands of the chosen representatives of the American people," he says.

Advancing the date of governmental succession will give birth to new evils, but at least it will do away with the troublesome and futile short session of congress.

UNBALANCED DEFLATION

Living in the United States today costs 39 percent less than in 1920 and only a third more than in 1913, which means happy days for persons with 1929 incomes but little consolation for those with 1913 incomes or no income at all.

Much emphasis has been placed on the declining cost of living, costs and percentages have been cited to make it appear that diminishing incomes have their compensations, but the householder trying to balance the family budget suspects that several major items were overlooked by the calculators.

Taxes still tower above the 1920 level. Rents have not dropped in proportion to incomes and commodity prices, nor will they until taxes are reduced. Interest rates and principal payments on home mortgages have not dropped and the mortgaged population is several times larger than it was in 1920 and 1913.

The figures are probably correct as to food and clothing costs, but those costs are not the whole cost of living. In fact, they are minor items in most personal budgets. Insurance items in the family budget increase with the income and usually must be paid when income drops, for the tendency is for insurance costs, with the exception of life insurance, to go up in hard times.

Something must give eventually. And, since not even government can get blood out of a stone, it is the tax-maker, not the taxpayer, who must surrender.

Three balls may not be the mark of a pawnbroker. For example there are Uncle Sam's three balls—baseball, golf ball and football.

Although Babe Ruth is a White Man, he isn't so poorly. Each of his suits ought to make over into two now.

Next to a secret the hardest thing to keep is a beautiful complexion.

Struggle.
Why ask from life such tender care
As to escape its every blow,
Who has not had a grief to bear,
The beauty of it doesn't know,
Who has been ever safe and warm
Has missed the grandeur of a storm.

A foolish man is he, indeed,
Who takes not comfort when he can.
But every page of life we read
Proclaims that struggle makes the man.
Nations stamp medals just to tell
The fame of those who battle well.

I would not try to feed with words
The hungry, nor with speech to cure
Men's agonies, but beasts and birds
Have no such sorrows to endure.
They live and die and never seem
To battle for a broken dream.

This man alone who copes with fate,
Who questions life; has doubts and fears,
Losses and gains, and soon or late,
Must suffer sorrow and its tears.
Only to man, who chafes at his lot,
Is the high gift of strife allowed.

NATIONAL TAX CONFERENCE

Representatives of the various state legislatures and of congress are holding in the national capital today and tomorrow the first conference ever called to consider primarily the confused situation with regard to duplicated and overlapping taxes. The body of delegates consists of a representative of each state senate and house of representatives and one or more fiscal officers from each state.

The inspiration for this interstate conference is seen in the increasing competition between the states and the federal government for taxes and the jealousy with which each guards what it considers its private revenue hunting grounds. The states fought to the last ditch a federal gasoline tax and lost. Now they seek a gentlemen's agreement.

One of the purposes is to find means by which the states collectively may effect an equitable apportionment of the various sources of revenue that will be advantageous to both interests. Co-ordination in tax matters is desired.

After thrashing over the whole question and comparing notes this convention probably will name a smaller group to negotiate with a congressional committee. If this joint committee can come to terms acceptable to the state legislatures and congress reforms of some value to the taxpayers may result.

MENACED HOMES

Prior to the country's late era of prosperity relatively few Americans owned their own homes. Industrial workers lived in company houses or rented from other landlords. In every community there were men, women and estates owning large numbers of tenant houses. Large fortunes were built on rentals in those days.

High wages of war times started the trend toward home ownership, and the post-war period of prosperity which came to an end in 1930 converted that trend into a tidal wave which reached unprecedented heights before it collapsed.

For several years the American people have been predicting the time when the family that did not own its own home or apartment would compare with the gypsies of today. Every family looked forward to home ownership, and millions had seen their dreams come true before the sun set on those halcyon days.

With thousands of unemployed and bankrupt home owners facing the loss of their homes and their investments in them, it is pertinent to ask, Whither are we going? Back to the old days of rented houses and feudal landlords, or onward after a brief breathing spell to more home ownership?

This is for the bankers to decide. If they can and will carry the distressed mortgagor along until he gets back on his feet, the country will lose little of the ground gained. If they cannot or will not America will cease to be a land of contented home owners.

The amount of insurance some men carry flatters them.

TAX REFORM

In the absence of inspiring statesmen, Prof. E. R. A. Seligman, of Columbia University, recommends for the individual states tax reform associations to lead the fight for indispensable reforms of such defects as antiquated taxing methods, lack of control of expenditures and unsatisfactory state finances.

The suggestion is not a bad one, but since a tax reform association must spring from the same populace that ought, but does not, produce "inspiring statesmen," where is the impetus and leadership for such an association to come from?

There have been such associations without number. Every state must have had several of its own either of local or state-wide influence, but tax systems are still in need of reforming.

Associations of this nature fail for a number of reasons. Usually they are organized with the ulterior purpose of advancing somebody's personal political ambitions. Or they quickly fall into the hands of individuals or groups actuated by some trivial tax grievance, rather than by a desire for universal relief for taxpayers.

John Smith, taxpayer, will not find relief from his tax burdens until he takes enough time from the job of scraping his tax dollars together to give a thought to tax reform.

MORE ENCOURAGING

Another commercial survey has found a rainbow in the business sky. It is Dun's quarterly review for the last three months of 1932, and while it promises nothing it is more optimistic in tone. Perhaps the only reason the predictions were omitted is because all signs have been failing for the last three years.

Most heartening is the disclosure that business failures during the last quarter were 6.8 percent below those for the corresponding period of 1931. Failures were increasing rapidly up until last October. Liabilities listed by the bankrupts were 16.5 per cent below those reported for the final quarter of 1931, which means the weeding out of more small enterprises.

The curve of business failures has always corresponded with the curve of business, turning upward when business is good and downward in hard times.

Other signs of fair business weather noted by the review are greater stability of commodity prices and greater bank clearings. Both are evidence of business gains. Bank clearings are

LOOKING FOR THE NEXT WAR

Ever since the war debts became an international bone of contention, and that was shortly after the war, people have been asking why their omniscient leaders didn't foresee and forestall this inevitability. The truth of the matter is that there were men in congress who did foresee today's troubles and who warned the government, but nothing was done to forestall them. That is like government.

The late Senator Cummins, of Iowa, looked into the distant future at the time congress was authorizing the loans to the Allies and found this picture:

"I fear that in the years to come the fact that the United States has in its possession bonds of the great countries, which when they emerge from the war will be bankrupt, will create an embarrassment from which the men of these times will find it difficult to escape. I think it would cost us more to take those bonds and to hold them against these governments than it would cost us to give the money, with a generous patriotic spirit, to do something which for the time being we are unable to do with our own army and our own navy."

Now it is too late to correct this mistake. The American people are unable to meet the obligations of their own government. They are not convinced that the debtors or nations cannot pay. And they have not been shown where these debtors are in default of interest and principal payments on their way borrowings from their own people.

No honorable government would repudiate a foreign loan while making payments on domestic loans, but it is easy for a government to forget honor when it realizes to whom it must go for money with which to fight the next war. A government that would repudiate war loans from its own people would find the borrowing most slim in the next war.

An old-timer is one who can remember when that kind of stories were told in smoking cars instead of magazines.

A naturalist says toads don't cause warts. But who gives them to the toads?

highly sensitive to fluctuations in business volume, and stable prices are essential to business prosperity.

IMPORTED TRASH.

An argument usually used against protective tariffs is that they penalize the consuming public for the benefit of big business and with the money the public would save by buying cheap imports, if they were not subject to duties, would maintain in luxury all American workers who might be thrown out of work by such foreign buying.

The fallacy of this argument lies chiefly in the fact that cheap foreign goods are not always the cheapest in the long run. Japanese electric light bulbs which have been flooding the country illustrate this point.

Eighty million of these bulbs entered the United States last year and sold for less than half the price of the most widely used American brands. And yet the imported article was an extravagance.

University of Pittsburgh research engineers compared the two products and found that it costs $1.10 more to operate a 50-watt Japanese lamp during its life of 1,000 hours than it does an American bulb of the same wattage over the same period. The domestic product also has a longer life than its foreign competitor.

The sale in the United States of 54,000,000 Japanese Christmas tree bulbs last year is known to have closed two of the largest factories manufacturing these bulbs. Here is idleness and hardship for Americans and work and prosperity for Japs.

Patronage of home industries is more than mere patriotism. Archaeologists were astounded at the state of preservation of towels found in an Egyptian tomb. Perhaps there were no traveling salesmen, tourists and college boys in those days.

A college diploma is a successful man's reminder of how little he knew when he got it.

Of course sex appeal helps to get a job. Idle rumors stays employed all right.

A go-getter is a man who walks seven blocks to the place where he parked the car.

Alas! It is impossible to tell at matriculation whether he has a good batting eye.

For genuine obscurity, suppose there were a vice-president of Italy.

The man who thinks he cannot be fooled already is.

GOVERNOR SIGNED BILL EXTENDING MOTOR FEE LIMIT

MEASURE SETTING APRIL FIRST AS NEW PAYMENT TIME BECOMES LAW

AUSTIN, Feb. 3.—(P)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today signed a bill extending the time limit for payment of motor vehicle registration fees to April 1. It became law immediately having been adopted by a two-thirds majority vote in each house, which made it effective at once with the chief executive's signature.

The woman governor presented the pen used in signing the bill to Senator Albert Stone of Brenham, who sponsored the legislation in the upper house.

The law designed to succor owners of automobiles and trucks who were not immediately able to pay their taxes. The time limit heretofore fixed the final date of payment on February 1. Those who did not pay up were subject to twenty per cent penalties and denied use of their conveyances until new license plates were obtained.

The Texas senate today confirmed the appointments of Jack Flynn of Houston as state labor commissioner, and Henry P. Edwards of Dallas as tax commissioner. The appointments were made by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

The committee on governor's nominations meanwhile went ahead with plans to hold a public hearing this afternoon on protests against continuation of Frank Denison of Temple as chairman of the highway commission and R. L. Daniel of Victoria as life insurance commissioner.

The committee planned to hear first the objections to Denison. Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, in Denison's home county, said he was ready to conduct a defense against any allegations which might be made. Senator George Purl of Dallas was leading the opposition to confirmation of Denison and Daniel.

CENTER, Feb. 3.—(P)—Two escaped convicts and a former convict were in the Center jail today charged with kidnapping, assault with intent to murder and automobile theft. The charges were filed in connection with a series of offenses perpetrated early Wednesday at Center, a small town in Deadeck county.

The men, Jack Peddy, L. P. Wood and Robert Stewart, were captured by officers at a negro house in Deadeck county, 18 miles east of Center. Officers said Peddy and Wood escaped from the state penitentiary last November by means of forged clemency papers. They returned to Huntsville, Stewart, who recently completed serving a prison sentence, will be held for the grand jury.

Caswell was wounded in an explosion which was the serious wounding of three hoodlums who kidnapped him and three other persons, Alvin Gunter, Lawrence McGuire and L. Parker. The hoodlums loaded their captives in Parker's car and drove to near Logansport, La., where they tied them to trees and robbed them of about $20 and the car. One of the victims managed to work free of his bonds and summon aid.

HOUSE COMMITTEE CUTS LEGISLATIVE APPROPRIATION BILL MORE THAN TWO MILLION DOLLARS LESS THAN FOR PAST YEAR ADVOCATED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—Congress learned today that the house appropriations committee thinks the legislative establishment can be run for $2,123,463 less in the next fiscal year than the current period.

The committee slashed $4,760,080 off the budget estimates for the legislative branch and reported a supply bill cut to $16,588,878, as compared with $18,712,341 for this year. Continuing the ten per cent cut in salaries of congressmen and senators made effective in the economy act last year, the members were given but $9,000 each in the bill.

In all, the senate with its membership of 96 was given $2,825,439 in the bill, while the house with 435 members, besides delegates and commissioners from the territories and possessions, received a total of $7,415,399.

The appropriations sub-committee headed by Representative Sandlin (D., La.), lopped $809,879 off the budget estimates for the house and $372,295 from those for the senate.

A provision was included to limit the official funeral committees to two senators and two representatives and excluding payment of relatives' expenses.

No provision is made for an automobile for the next speaker. Garner declined a $5,000 automobile when he was elected speaker. However, when he becomes vice president, he will have under the bill $3,840 for maintenance of a machine less than Vice President Curtis was given for the operation of the automobile this year.

Senate Restaurant.
The senate restaurant was given $27,288 but nothing was allotted for the house restaurant. However, $2,500 was included for an oil portrait of Speaker Garner to join those of preceding speakers in the lobby of the house chamber.

Only $14,455 was allowed the senate for investigation next year, or $5,545 less than for the current period.

Medical supplies amounting to $200,000 were provided for to be used by Dr. George W. Calver, the attending physician at the capitol who treats members and their families.

COMMISSION AND JOHNSON PRAISED IN RESOLUTIONS

AUSTIN, Feb. 3.—(P)—A resolution praising the Texas highway commission and commending Cone Johnson of Tyler for his six years of "fine service" on the commission, was adopted today by the senate.

The resolution, offered by Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur, pointed out that Johnson's term would expire February 15. It expressed the senate's appreciation for his service.

The resolution said further that the highway commission was "second to none in the nation for its efficiency and economical administration of highway affairs."

Senator Woodruff asked that the names of all senators be signed to the resolution and there was no objection. Later, however, eight senators asked that their names be removed from the resolution.

The eight senators who did not sign were W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales, Gus Russell of Schulenburg, John W. Hornsby of Austin, Wilbourne Collier of Eastland, Roy Sanderford of Belton, Will M. Martin of Hillsboro, John S. Reddick of Lufkin and Ernest Felbaum of San Antonio.

Johnson's place on the commission would be filled by F. L. Denison of Temple, appointee of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, in event the senate confirms his appointment.

HOUSE PASSED BIG APPROPRIATION BILL AT FRIDAY SESSION

SENATE CONSIDERS TREASURY AND POSTOFFICE SUPPLY MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—The house today passed the billion dollar appropriation bill for independent officers of the government which provides $18,000,000 more for veterans expenditures this year, but it first struck out a $300,000 increase voted yesterday for the federal trade commission to finish its power and chain store investigations.

The sum for the veterans' administration was $966,838,000; that for the trade commission $500,000. As the measure went to the senate, that chamber faced votes on the major economy program of the session, a section of the treasury-postoffice appropriation bill reducing federal pay and other expenditures.

Before taking it up, however, the senate welcomed a new Democratic member, Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, son of the late speaker of the house, who was sworn in ahead of his regular term because of the death of Senator Harry B. Hawes to give him priority over the March 4 crop of newcomers. Hawes, also a Democrat, was eulogized by members of both parties as he retired by resignation.

Speaker Garner announced that tariff revision legislation would not pass this session. The house Republicans had banded for an effort to raise the tariff walls to curtail the covered value of imports from countries with depreciated currency.

Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) argued before a house committee for his legislation to remonetize silver, a rather bold move, asserting that the nations of the world could not be brought back to the gold standard unless the United States and France permit redistribution of their huge shares of gold.

Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) argued before a house committee for his legislation to remonetize silver, a rather bold move, asserting that the nations of the world could not be brought back to the gold standard unless the United States and France permit redistribution of their huge shares of gold.

Harvey Couch, member of the Reconstruction Corporation, told a senate committee that the law governing self-liquidation loans should be liberalized.

The house received from its appropriations committee a new appropriation measure, providing $200,000 for a congressional establishment of $123,000 for this year. It provided $9,000 a year salary for representatives and senators.

More testimony was given the senate agriculture committee on behalf of the domestic allotment farm relief plan.

Named on Radio Board.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—President Hoover today named John C. Jensen, of Nebraska, to be a member of the radio commission, and at the same time reappointed Eugene Sykes, of Mississippi, to continue as a radio commissioner.

House Agrees to Cotton Bill.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—The house today agreed to the cotton tariff reduction bill to turn over 350,000 bales of farm cotton to the Red Cross for relief purposes. It now goes to the senate and approval there will send it to the white house.

Senator Clark Sworn In.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—Bennett Champ Clark, son of the late speaker of the house and former house parliamentarian, was sworn today as Senator from Missouri, succeeding Harry B. Hawes, resigned.

Rejects Congress Plan.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—The senate military committee today unanimously rejected the proposal by Senator Couzens (R., Mich.) for army posts to care for unemployed youths.

SPEAKER GARNER SAYS NO TARIFF LEGISLATION NOW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—Speaker Garner today disposed of Republican attempts to force through tariff raising legislation with the declaration that "there will be no foreign depreciated currency legislation enacted at this session of congress."

Garner made his statement to newspapermen.

The question is too important for the consideration it would receive at the short session," he said. "It is unnecessary if not foolish to undertake a large problem like this with the senate in the condition it is in."

"There is quite a disposition in the house to take care of the situation brought about by the depreciated foreign currencies and their effect on imports. The problem is entirely to take care of consideration, which it would not receive at this session."

Extended hearings have been held by the ways and means committee on legislation for automatic increases in tariffs to offset the effect of depreciated foreign money on the American market. The Republicans in caucus bound themselves to support some such legislation and a petition has been signed by 150 members of congress.

A vote Feb. 13 on taking up the automatic tariff increase bill.

FIRST ROUNDS OF PLAY COUNTY BOYS TOURNAMENT HERE SATURDAY

TWELVE TEAMS TO DECIDE TITLE ON COURT SATURDAY

FOURTEEN TEAMS ELIMINATED IN ALL-DAY PLAY IN COUNTY MEET HERE

The first installment of the 1938 Navarro county interscholastic league class B boys' basketball tournament was run off Saturday at the Y. M. C. A. court here with eleven games being played and three forfeited, leaving twelve teams in the running for next week. Navarro high school's "Broncos" are the defending champions, and through their first game unscheduled defeat Corbet 20-14.

Bills for the second installment of the title race will fall due next Friday afternoon when the second round of elimination games will be played, leaving the quarter-finals, semi-finals, final and consolation games for a leisurely day the following Saturday, Feb. 11.

Friday's games: McCord will meet Navarro at 4 o'clock, Richmond plays Mt. Nebo at 5 o'clock, Emmett engages Mildred at 6 o'clock, and Rural Shade and Frost play at 7 o'clock. The only other games already settled for next week are Purdon vs. Pickett, 10 o'clock and Rice vs. Barry at 11 o'clock Saturday, Feb. 11.

Saturday's quarter games will begin at 8 a. m. and continue through the 12 noon game. The semi-finals will be run off at 2 and 3 p. m. Saturday afternoon; consolation at 7 p. m. and the final at 8 Saturday night.

Result of Games: Saturday's results: Brushy Prairie 22, McCord 31; Navarro 20, Corbet 14; Richardson 19, Pickett 13; Purdon 20, Angus 0 (forfeit); Barry 36, Bryan 10; Emmett 24, Bradley 22; Mildred 16, Dawson 9; Rural Shade 40, Union High 18; Frost 2, Wilson 40; Pickett 26, Purley 24; Rice 27, Currie 15; Barry 21, Blooming Grove 17; and Purdon 30, Emhouse 22.

With the exception of two of the 14 games, the winners came through with wins to advance to the second round. The two in question were the Bradley-Emmett and Pickett-Purley games. Bradley was a slight favorite, with the services of McClanahan, sensation all forward. Emmett got a well deserved win, however, by outscoring their adversaries in the last quarter. Pickett jumped into the lead with a 6-1 score at the end of the first quarter, but Emmett advanced to within one point at the half, with Bradley leading 10-9. Emmett, leading 10-12 at the three-quarter point, and 24-22 as the game ended. It was Nip and Tuck during the last quarter with the score tied most of the time.

Purley was a slight favorite in the 6 o'clock game, but largely outplayed as a result of Purley's performance in the recent games and tournaments. This may not have been the best game of the tournament, nor showing up the best style of basketball seen during the day, but it was a very close and exciting game played Saturday. Neither team ever got a safe lead, and were necessarily always scrapping to keep their heads above water. A minute or two before the end of the first quarter, Purley led 10-9, but was going to have to work over-time, with the score tied, but in a burst of offensive brilliance, Pickett came through with a four point lead, and a dozen seconds later Purley cut the margin a pair of points.

Purley was leading 8-2 end of the first quarter, and ahead 10-10 at the mid-way. Purley was again in the lead three times, 17-14 at the three quarter time, and shortly before the game ended was up on a run. Pickett pulled the game out of the fire, and it ended 26-24.

Barry Plays Good Game. When the Barry-Blooming Grove game at 9 o'clock was not an upset, Barry played some pretty basketball late in the closing chapter to tie down a ticket to the second round of play. The game was tied 9-9 at the half, and Barry was leading 16-10 at the three quarter point. Both teams played bang-up basketball in the closing minutes, with the score almost tied most of the way. With two minutes left to play, Barry broke loose and salted down the game with one field goal and one free throw giving them a three-point margin.

Purdon, another favorite got a break in their first game, and advanced to the second round via the safest route. Purdon broke out in their appearance. Purdon then rambled to a 50-22 win over Emhouse Saturday night. The winners took a commanding lead in the first quarter, 12-4, but it was nearly wiped out at the half when they were leading 15-11. Emhouse was trailing 3 points (20-17) at the third, but Purdon broke out in the closing stanza and made 10 points to a safe win.

Mildred Defeated Dawson. Showing an aggressive defense late in the closing minutes of the game, Mildred came through with a trailing half the game. Dawson was leading 5-4 in the first quarter, and 7-6 at the half. Mildred defeated Dawson 16-9.

teams on the dotted line this year, the turn-out of spectators has been great. Nearly every team has been followed by rabid supporters.

Danny Lynch, Dallas, is official referee of the tournament.

MARKET IS STILL WITHOUT DEFINITE TREND ON MONDAY

LITTLE RECUPERATIVE POWER SHOWN AND TRADERS WERE CAUTIOUS

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Bolted by a good rise in wheat and firmness of General Motors shares in advance of the dividend meeting, the stock market gave a better account of itself in the afternoon trading, after appearing rather feeble in the morning. The closing tone was steady, with several issues up fractions to a point. Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The stock market showed some inclination to pull itself together today, after absorbing a little selling in early dealings. On the whole, however, the market failed to display recuperative power, and traders were cautious. A firmer tone in wheat in the earlier dealings may have been helpful.

Losses of fractions to a point or so were partially regained here and there, and General Motors, on which the dividend announcement was expected after the close, was a fraction. Extreme losses of a point in American Telephone and Union Pacific, were reduced to fractions, and fractional losses in American Can and Allied Chemical were recovered. In Steel was about steady, but Bethlehem eased. Woolworth and Goodyear sagged a point, and failed to show recuperative power. Issues of 1-2 point or more included American Tobacco B, Standard of N. J., Eastman, North American, Public Service of N. J., and others. Some profit-taking came into the day's trading, causing fractional recessions.

By JOHN L. COOLEY, Associated Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Price changes in the curb market were narrow today. Occasional heaviness among utility shares was attended by no increase in volume, but the group failed to develop much rallying power.

Gold mining issues provided a rather large percentage of total volume. Several issues in that category advanced fractionally to last week's gains, though profit-taking later appeared here and there, notably in Lake Shore Mines which fell back after making a new high. The group was active, but not showing a moderate decline from Saturday's close. United Light tended to firm and early in the day by American Gas and Electric was followed by recovery of the ground lost.

Aside from the metal issues, there was little life in specialties and industrials. Parker Rust Proof was listless on its dividend news of the past week-end, directors having cleared a payment of 12 cents. Singer Manufacturing held above par on one of its infrequent appearances. Gulf Atlantic and Pacific, quoted ex-dividend, both regular and a new issue of 140, were inactive.

THOMPSON WELL PLEASED RESULT PRORATION WORK

AUSTIN, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission, enforcing oil and gas proration orders, said today "the past week has marked the turning point in the latest fight to enforce proration in the great East Texas oil field."

"This success was made possible by the splendid co-operation of the East Texas land owners," he said. "While our reorganization and consolidation of forces helped somewhat, the major part of the credit belongs to the land owners, the people who lived in that country long before oil came."

"The land owners are thoroughly awake to the situation and are determined to protect their property and see that their rightful possessions are not dissipated in a wild orgy of wide-open wells and overproduction."

GREAT CROWDS AT ELEVENTH AVENUE BAPTIST SERVICES

The services Sunday at the Eleventh Avenue Baptist church reached a high tide as the house was full at both services and crowded to its capacity Sunday night. The B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school went over the top and everybody is pulling for 500 as the new goal. Superintendent Leonard S. Lee and President D. W. Sawyers, heading the Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. work, predict by March, the first Sunday, they will have reached their long-sought 500.

The pastor spoke at the morning hour on "The Vessel in the Hands of the Potter," a subject taken from a text in Jer. 18:4. The message Sunday night was on the subject "The Man Who Talks to His Own Soul." This message was taken from Luke 12:19. The pastor announced a continuation of the cottage prayer meetings for the week.

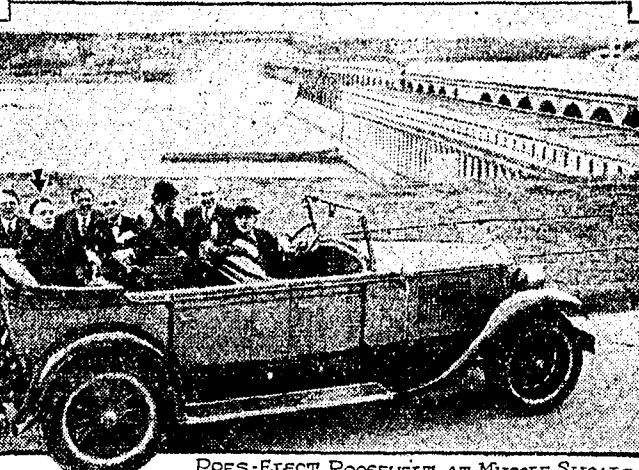

GOOD ATTENDANCE SUNDAY AT THIRD AVE. PRESBYTERIAN

The attendance at the Third Avenue Presbyterian Church was above the average at all services on yesterday. The Sunday School had a nice increase in attendance. The Junior Department provided the worship program for the Adult Department. Mrs. R. N. Elliott sang solo.

At the morning worship service

Gigantic Development Planned by F. D. R. to Reclaim Southland

Power, Reclamation, Reforestation, Flood Control and Farms for Poor, Features of Tennessee River Valley Scheme Which Would Employ 200,000.

The most elaborate project of planning ever attempted by the Federal Government was recently announced by President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, who intends to submit his program to Congress in the early days of his administration. The plan, which would affect ten States, ties the problems of conservation, reforestation, flood control, the creation of new power units and the reclamation of useless land into one great unit, which Mr. Roosevelt is confident would be solved by the adoption of his plan, the essential features of which are as follows: Taking the entire Tennessee River Valley, covering an area of some 640,000 square miles, a unified system will be worked out for creating new power reserves to provide cheap electric current. The Tennessee River and its tributaries would be controlled to prevent floods, large tracts of land would be reclaimed, and an extensive program of reforestation undertaken. Mr. Roosevelt points out that we already have a good start in the Muscle Shoals power plant, which cost the government $165,000,000 and is now lying idle. If Congress approves the plan, the reforestation angle of the scheme would put from 50,000 to 75,000 men to work within the year. More than 200,000 would be employed when the project was started in real earnest. The cost of the monumental development would possibly reach the billion dollar figure.

Wedding of John Jacob Astor, 3rd, Son of Titanic Victim, to Donna Cristiana Torlonia Scheduled for April, Say Gossips, Despite Family Denials.

Despite denials of Mrs. Elsie Moore Torlonia, American mother of Donna Cristiana Torlonia, society gossips are persistent in declaring that the wedding of the Italian-American beauty to John Jacob Astor, 3rd, of THE Astors, will take place early in April. It was recently revealed by Luisa Maria Camperio, daughter of Admiral Camperio, of the Italian navy, in a letter to her father that she had been invited to be a maid of honor at the nuptials. Young Astor, a son of John Jacob Astor, who perished in the Titanic disaster, and Mrs. William K. Dick, who came into an inheritance of $3,000,000 on August 14, when he will have attained the age of 21. Donna Cristiana, not yet 20, met Astor at a fashionable resort in the Italian Alps last year, soon after she had been introduced to New York society. The girl's father, Prince Torlonia, member of the board of the district, and one of Italy's noblest families. Donna Cristiana is blonde and blue-eyed and a devotee of outdoor sports. She has frequently been seen in company of young Astor's mother, Mrs. William K. Dick, at American and European resorts favored by the elite.
